

Food for thought:

90,000 high school students are trained in culinary arts, restaurant management and nutrition each year.

Competitors from the 2011 ProStart Invitational

The National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation ProStart program provides curriculum for 1,700 schools across North America and has granted $14 million in scholarships to students since 1997 - giving them a jumpstart on successful careers.

That is one way the restaurant industry inspires the next generation of leaders and entrepreneurs. Support America's restaurants.
